

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

THE third annual appearance of the Woman's Club newspaper, the Hardy Annual, proved one of the most interesting occasions in the social life of the club for this year.

The editorial staff of the Hardy Annual had Mrs. Thomas Cary Johnson as editor-in-chief; Mrs. Moses D. Hoge, sporting editor; Mrs. H. A. Sampson, woman's page editor; Mrs. John S. Munce, book review editor; Miss Helen Montague, original story writer; Mrs. B. H. Ellington, poet; Mrs. Chiles M. Ferrell, humorous paragraphs and jokes; and Mrs. R. H. Harwood, musical supplement.

Daffodils, other spring flowers and palms made a most attractive background for those taking part in the flowering of the "Hardy Annual." Mrs. Thomas Cary Johnson's editorial was sparkling with humor and pungent in expression. She paid a tribute to her predecessor in the editorial chair, individualized the review editor as a woman not only with a capacity to talk about books, but as possessing also a capacity to wear Paris gowns. The paragraph writer, she said, was so brimful of vivacity that, by association with her, even the staidest chestnut would be revived. And in like manner she touched upon the temperamental characteristics of every member of her staff. After completing these personal introductions, Mrs. Johnson passed on to a masterly classification and analysis of "gossips," their good and bad points, the fun or the mischief resulting from their gossiping. The entire editorial was a gem of its kind, and gained additional value from the fine presentation of its points by Mrs. Johnson.

The sporting editor, Mrs. Moses D. Hoge, was irresistible. She closed by offering a prize to the member of the Woman's Club registering the greatest number of kicks and the biggest kick during the year. Mrs. H. A. Sampson, in charge of woman's page, did an inimitable service to all the young mothers present by her advice as to methods for caring for babies. Equally valuable were her suggestions to housewives that they should "play while working, and work while playing."

Mrs. John S. Munce, book reviewer, was simply delightful. She commented upon a number of recent valuable contributions to literature in a most discriminating way, and advised all members of the club to read the greatest of articles recently written by the Duchess of Marlborough on "The Position of Women in America and England."

Miss Helen Montague's original story, entitled "The Boy's Aunt," Mrs. B. H. Ellington's poems, and Mrs. R. H. Harwood's musical supplement were all the best of their kind, adding greatly to the merit of the "Hardy Annual" and the enjoyment of all present.

Mrs. Chiles M. Ferrell's paragraphs and jokes closed the columns of the club newspaper, and evoked much laughter and merriment. "We hear," said Mrs. Ferrell, "that Taft has substituted a Cracker for a Crum in Georgia. We wonder if it is a ginger snap!"

And again: "The Hardy Annual suggests to the new board that two policemen be added to the house committee of Woman's Club, and that iron bars be placed across doors leading into the pantry, with space enough for plates to be passed through. This would greatly simplify the serving of refreshments."

A delightful reception followed the reading of the newspaper. Among guests present yesterday afternoon, and those who have recently enjoyed club hospitality, were Miss Townsend, of East Orange, N. J.; Miss Josephine Clarke, of Norfolk; Miss Lewis, of Henric; Mrs. W. A. Stradwick, of Hillsboro, N. C.; Mrs. Charles King, of Pulaski county; Miss Bettie Dickinson, of Hollins; Mrs. Nan Jeffries, of Warrenton, Va.; and Mrs. C. S. Breminger, of York.

Handsome House Party. Miss Mattie Baskerville, of 313 East Grace Street, has returned from a large and delightful house party at the home of a friend at Oxford, N. C., where the guests had everything imaginable done for their pleasure and entertainment.

The Lenten Tea Room. The Lenten tea room at the Jefferson Hotel presented its usual attractive appearance yesterday afternoon.

MURDER DETAILS ARE COMING OUT

Police Confident They Have Men Who Killed Chicago Artist.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ALEXANDRIA, Va., March 15.—That Walter F. Schultz, the Chicago artist, whose body was found Sunday, March 7, last, with his throat horribly hacked on the left side, was killed by three negroes, is the contention of the police. The police are also confident that in the arrest of James Dorsey, Richard Pined and Calvin Johnson, all negroes, they have the right men in custody.

Commonwealth Attorney Brent, after returning from Fairfax county this afternoon, said: "I feel confident that we have the right men and will secure a conviction."

That the police have obtained a confession there seems little doubt, and it is also believed that the information was secured from Henry Smith, a negro upholsterer held on a larceny charge. The police this morning refused to divulge the nature of the information they have, fearing that at this time an expose would perhaps prove detrimental to their case.

Coroner Moore said to-day that he would not reconvene the jury until he secured further information from Chief Goode. Mr. Brent says he has not yet decided what he will do. He regards it as more than probable that the prisoners will be summoned before the coroner's jury prior to a preliminary hearing, and he feels confident that the jury will be reconvened early this week.

Story of Murder. A story of how the Chicago artist met his death has just been made public. It is to the effect that he was attacked at the upper end of the city early Saturday night and struck in the head with a rock by a negro and rendered senseless. Afterwards he was picked up and carried by three negroes to the barren field where his body was found. One of the negroes hacked his throat, while the others held his arms and legs. Prior to taking him to the spot where his body was found his overcoat was removed, and they conveyed him in that state.

It is reported that one of the negroes told the story when he stopped overnight at the home of a negro woman. He told her of having struck a white man in the head after the latter had called him an ugly name.

According to the police, Pines is thirty-six years old, and has a police record. On one occasion he killed a negro woman while pursuing, and probably saved the life of a policeman. He was promptly acquitted for this offense. He has, however, served many jail sentences for petty crimes.

Dorsey, the police say, is a gambler. He follows no regular employment, and has been in the Police Court on several occasions. He is twenty-eight years old.

Johnson is about twenty-five years old. He has been in the Police Court but seldom, and in each instance the case against him was a minor offense. Smith, who, it is said, gave the confession which led to the arrest of the men, came here several years ago from Chicago, and is an upholsterer. He is about thirty-five years old. The only police record he has is in connection with his business.

Men Strongly Guarded. The three men in custody were strongly guarded to-day, and no one, not even newspaper people, were allowed to communicate with them. Johnson was conveyed to the city jail, while Pines was placed at one end of the police station and Dorsey at the other.

Smith, who, the police still maintain, is held in connection with the larceny of a watch, is confined in a separate room at police station. The holding of Smith is regarded as significant, in view of the fact that he was not even given a preliminary hearing in the Police Court this morning. Chief Goode, when asked about this, said he would probably be given a hearing on the other cases prior to Smith's arraignment.

FITTING TRIBUTE PAID. Many Attend Services Over Remains of Colonel Alexander O. Holladay.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] RALEIGH, N. C., March 15.—A fitting tribute to the close of an honored and useful career was the funeral service for the lamented Colonel Alexander O. Holladay, held this afternoon from the First Presbyterian Church. The casket of the A. and M. College, of which he was the first president, serving for ten years, attended in uniform, and the church was thronged with people. The floral tributes were especially numerous and beautiful.

Following the remains as honorary pall-bearers were Colonel Thomas H. Keenan, Hon. R. H. Battle, Dr. James McKee, Charles Root, Colonel J. C. L. Harris, B. S. Skinner, Captain T. V. Davis, Captain S. A. Ashe, Major W. A. R. Smith, Ed. Chambers Smith, Dr. E. W. Kilgore and W. S. Primrose.

The active pall-bearers were Dr. D. H. Hill, president of A. and M. College; Major Delaney, of Raleigh; Professor W. A. Withers, Professor Yates, J. R. Chamberlain, A. F. Bowen and Charles Parks, all of the faculty of A. and M. College. The interment was in the family lot in Oakwood Cemetery, here.

Candidates for Legislature. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FREDERICKSBURG, Va., March 15.—J. T. Christian, of Mathews county, has announced himself a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the Legislature from the legislative district composed of Mathews and Middlesex counties.

Two candidates are in the field for the Democratic nomination for the House of Delegates in Orange county. They are C. C. Tallafra, present Delegate, and W. C. Williams, Sr.

Approaching Marriage. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FREDERICKSBURG, Va., March 15.—Announcement is made of the coming marriage of James May Woltz, formerly of this city, now of Washington, to Miss Leona V. Riley, of the latter city, the ceremony to take place in Washington on Wednesday, May 17.

Why Paint?

Natural roses are far more beautiful than artificial ones, and though it may be fashionable for pale people to use the rouge pot, the results are more attractive and lasting, if you will follow the more natural fashion and take Cardui.

Cardui enriches the blood, through the nervous system, the main connecting link of which, is in the womanly organs, like the exchange board of a telephone line.

TAKE CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"Cardui is all the doctor I want," writes Mrs. Amanda Frye, of Montoya, N. Mex. "It is the finest medicine for women that ever was. I cannot say too much for it. It helped me and also my mother, who had been suffering for three years from the change of life. I advised her to take Cardui and now she has taken one bottle and it has helped her and she feels like a different woman."

Train Schedules Will Not Be Disarranged to Suit That City.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] RALEIGH, N. C., March 15.—Something new for the North Carolina Corporation Commission is a dissenting opinion on the part of one of its members from the ruling of the majority. It comes from Hon. B. F. Aycock, in the noted Wilson connection case, involving the morning Fayetteville-Richmond, the Goldsboro-Norfolk and the Raleigh-Washington, N. C., trains in their relation to Wilson. Chairman McNeill and Commissioner Rogers, as the majority of the board, declined to make an order for changes in these schedules so that passengers leaving Raleigh on the Norfolk and Richmond every morning could connect at Wilson for Eastern Carolina points on the Coast Line toward Norfolk and Richmond.

Commissioner Aycock, in dissenting, declared that by changing the schedules of these trains on the Coast Line and Norfolk and Southern only fifteen minutes each the connection could be made without the expense or serious inconvenience to the railroads. He would have the Raleigh train leave at 6:30 o'clock instead of 6:35 o'clock, and then set back the leaving time of the Fayetteville-Richmond train at Fayetteville fifteen
